Philosophy for Self Control silence against silent wars

① Everything & Nothing & All in & out between are governed by an immutable law, that of change. Some seen, some unforseen, both as causes/effects of an earlier cause & effect or action/reaction/motion. We are creatures of emotions (& in this age supercreated & fickle) like children of abusive parents given TNT. I am just happy I had enough Self respect & Courage to act on my own with friends as to find the only thing I can truly own in this plane(t) of existence: my being. At 20, I Now understand that I can change minorly as to have to massively change later in life, or I can work with (through myself & Soul to be authentic & as I change myself change the world.

How can my identity be stolen?

When I play a character, mock/mimic another, or fulfill a role, those masks are inherent to an individual of which I have stolen or borrowed with consent (flattery).

Dear Kelly Lynn Johnson 7/28/2020
11:01 p.m

Around a year & a month ago,
We began an erotic relationship after stripping the platonic foundation required to be built in all relationships this we mutually sunk our ship. The polarizing aspect is, to me, necessitating a trinity. Fear, yes, love, yes, Trust? Well, yes & no. I disagree heartily about the commitment aspect. We could, can & may exchange our views on so, for now, on paper, I too live for others & that's where we are setting ourselves up for failure... I seen this & made the notion of self marriage one to explore as I too can see you for where you are & can/may be & so I wanted with what I have to assert what we, with emphasis on me, can be. I spent a lot of time on social media & escaping with weed. I felt sexually inadequate to you & that showed in your actions of getting with numerous others & then telling me I didn't cause I didn't want to. That's bullshit & I didn't cause I feared losing you yet, in retrospect I already had mentally & so it had to play out physically. May we both work through our martyristic programming establish concise yet changeable boundaries & blossom as friends, acquaintances, or alone if it's what the time/we as individuals our consent. Self Love is the way to love All. Vegeng reverence.
